

THE ONGOING HISTORY OF PROTEST MUSIC

Computer Lady – Spoon Jackson

This tune by spoken word artist Spoon Jackson is a reference to the automated voice that interrupts prison calls with a reminder that the call is being recorded or that it will be cut off in 60 seconds. This was created in prison where he has been incarcerated for 47 years. It is the first single off his upcoming album No Moon, out April 17.

